Painting in Space

Ann Sutton - Body Pieces - World Exclusive!

This summer we are pleased to be able to introduce something completely new - it is not often that a gallery can say that! Ann Sutton has produced a new way of "painting in space" and in so doing she has created her "Body Pieces" which are artworks that can be worn. From June 2010 these will only be available at the Zimmer Stewart Gallery in Arundel.

The pieces, each of which is unique, include large pieces which can be worn over the shoulders, as shown in the adjacent image and also smaller pieces which are worn as brooches. They will be on show in our "Summer Exhibition - Surreal and Beyond" from June 5 to 7 August.

As Oscar Wilde said "One should either be a work of art, or wear a work of art"

At the very heart of Ann Sutton's work is weaving. Famed for experimenting with challenging materials, she is comparable to Anni Albers from the pre-war German Bauhaus movement.

Ann Sutton is one of the most renowned figures in the field of textiles today. Throughout her fifty-year career she has endeavoured to develop the use of textiles in new, profitable and exciting ways. Ann has been involved in all aspects of the field from designing for industry (for Ralph Lauren, Heals and Liberty) to consulting, writing and lecturing.
