Summer of Art

4 June to 6 August 2011

This Summer at the Zimmer Stewart Gallery you will find a wide range of work by new, emerging and established artists from Sussex and the South East of England.

Their mixed “Summer of Art” Exhibition, starting in June, will show paintings by Katharine Le Hardy, Nick Bodimeade, Phil Tyler; Original prints by Gary Goodman, Patrick Caulfield, Terry Frost; Ceramics by John Leach, Karen Bunting, Nigel Lambert and Sculpture by Giles Penny and Christopher Marvell.

It will be a wonderful mix of work and mediums to suit all tastes and budgets, as work sells it will be replaced by new pieces so as the show continues it will evolve and change, so visitors are encouraged to come back again and again during the 8 weeks to see different work.

We will open up the garden as in previous years to show garden sculpture, and visitors are encouraged to see the landscaping by Midhurst garden designer Annie Guilfoyle. Some people return each year just to see how the garden has grown and developed.

James Stewart, Gallery Director, said “The solo shows we have for much of the year give visitors to the gallery a chance to see one artist’s work in depth, but for many people the mixed group shows are more exciting because of the variety of work that can be seen from a number of artists at the same time; it is an opportunity to see how different pieces work alongside each other”
